At the time of this writing, it is the top-rated server control panel on. What Is My Domain? McMyAdmin provides a set of tools to manage your Minecraft server. The name of your server is found in the Control Panel under the Config tab (or the “Settings” tab if you have been using MyMC with Minecraft Server). It is called My Domain because it is associated with your server and can only be used from your server’s IP address. How to Use McMyAdmin Step 1: Login and Make Your First Transaction Log in to McMyAdmin at. From the login screen, click the “Add Server” button to add a server. From the next screen, go to the Settings tab and select the server you would like to manage. Step 2: Listing Servers and Clients You can view and manage all your servers here, including their IP addresses, port settings, and the Minecraft plugins they use. Note that “Enable” means it is operating normally; “Stop” means it is stopped; and “Disable” means it is disabled and can no longer be accessed. Step 3: Switching Players McMyAdmin allows you to switch players between your server and a world. After you select a server, go to the “Players” tab and select the player you would like to use. Step 4: Editing Server Properties The first two tabs allow you to edit the Server Properties for your server. Go to the “Server” tab and select the server you would like to edit. On this screen, you can update the IP address, port, plugin compatibility, and much more. Step 5: Editing Commands The third tab is the Commands tab. It is where you can view and edit all your server commands. You can set the commands to automatically run when a player joins, creates a snapshot, leaves, and more. Step 6: Creating World Instances The fourth tab is the World Instances tab. It allows you to create new worlds or edit existing worlds. You can also set the start and end times for the worlds. Step 7: Configure Mods The final tab is the Mod Settings tab. On this screen, you can view and edit any mod settings.
